HOW MANY CHURCHES AD-VERTISE?
CLERGYMAN'S TASK
NEW HISTORY WRITTEN
—By Arthur Brisbane
(Copyright 1930 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

ONE hundred clergymen, Dr. Reiner presiding, invited this writer to discuss "How can church advertising be made successful?" and "How can church publications be made interesting?"

The important questions are passed on to editors and advertising men.

THE CLERGYMAN'S TASK in advertising, publishing and preaching is difficult and ungrateful.

He offers the people what is GOOD FOR THEM in competition with those that offer what they LIKE. Which good for them or not?

In old days families walked long distances on muddy roads, losing their rubbers, on the way to the only meeting house.

Now good roads and automobiles bring neighbors close together. Telephones unite them, moving pictures move them, radio brings dance music, songs, plays, operas, even prayer.

To advertise churches successfully is not easy.

Henry Ward Beecher had a good idea when he sold a good-looking mulatto slave girl at auction in his Brooklyn church. That would draw crowds even now.

Old Puritans preached on hell, making it so real that every man shuddered, and would not have gone to a movie, even had it been available.

Modernism has weakened faith and fear.

IT SHOULD, HOWEVER, be possible to interest even the modern mind on what is to come after the coffin lid is fastened down and the family goes about its business, leaving you there.

Something is going to happen, or nothing. Everybody admits that.

If nothing is going to happen, then nothing amounts to anything here, and we are all the victims of a cosmic joke.

If something is going to happen, even the dullest jazz mind should want to know what it is.

The entrepreneur might attract attention by advertising "come to my church and learn what will happen to us when your jazz days are over."

MR. KARL SIGMUND FELDER, now from the Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Chicago a history of the United States in five hundred words, entitled "From Columbus to Hoover."

It would interest Calvin Coolidge, who must write such a history to be pointed on the side of a mountaintop.

The last 43 words of it follow, with thanks to Mr. Felder:

"Equal opportunity is our heritage. Work is our honor. Schools are our barracks. 'Abundant life' is our Christian religion. Our missionaries are everywhere. Law is our final arbiter. Our flag represents freedom, security, prosperity. 'Never defeated in war; we abolished war.'

"In God we trust."

NEW CASTLE, PA., March 22.—Death in the electric chair today loomed ahead as the final grim chapter in the life of Irene Shradler whose 21 years have encompassed holdups and gun battles which resulted fatally for two men.

Convicted last night of first degree murder for the slaying of a Pennsylvania highway patrolman, Mrs. Shradler who gave up waiting on tables in a Wheeling, W. Va. restaurant to become a bandit for the "thrill" it gave her, today was in her cell indifferent to efforts of her counsel in taking steps to save her life.

Monday her attorneys will go into court with a motion for a new trial. They have announced they may carry their battle to the state supreme court if need be.

Deliberate Two Hours

After deliberating less than two hours, the jury found Mrs. Shradler guilty of killing Corporal Brady Paul near New Castle last Dec. 27, and the verdict carried no recommendation of mercy.

Paul was slain when he and Private Ernest Moore halted an automobile to question the occupants regarding a store holdup at Butler, Pa. Mrs. Shradler, her companion in crime, W. Glenn Dague, Wheeling automobile salesman, and her brother, Tom Crawford, replied with gun fire.

The holdup was but one of many which Mrs. Shradler and Dague, awaiting trial for murder in the same case, had perpetrated in Ohio, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania. On the witness stand Mrs. Shradler, who deserted her husband shortly COLUMBUS, O., March 22.—"Scarface Al" Capone, today had the choice of leaving Chicago or being arrested every time a policeman sees him.

His call at detective headquarters resulted in nothing but advice—advice from Deputy Police Commissioner John Stege that Chicago wouldn't be a safe place for you, Al."

The police said they didn't want him, the state's attorney and the federal prosecutor said same thing Capone, coming out of seclusion for the first time since his release Monday from a Philadelphia penitentiary, called on them all.

Stege, who had accompanied Capone on his tour, told him police had no charges to bring against him, but would nevertheless arrest him on sight every time he appeared in public. He also mentioned in his argument against Chicago as a permanent home for Capone as the large number of gang killings.

Warns of Slaying

"Somebody might bump you off any time," Stege said, "and my boys would be bothering you all the time. You know how they are—hot blooded and ambitious."

To show that he meant what he said, Stege called in all the members of his force he could find who had never seen Capone.

"There he is, boys, he told them. The next time you see him bring him in."

Capone suggested such procedure would not be legal and Stege replied that Capone could always sue for false arrest. "That's been done before," Stege admitted. "Dingbat Oberia did that. By the way, did you hear what happened to Dingbat?"

Oberia was killed gangster fashion, two weeks ago.

Authorities are expected to file murder charges against him. Two of his companions, who figured in the brief battle Wednesday night, are in jail here.

"You're out of luck" was the reply. "Your day is done."

To reporters, Capone obligingly explained where he had been since his release from the Philadelphia

Southern Judge Named To

John J. Parker One Of

Exalted Post

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 22.—The nomination of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina, as an associate justice of the supreme court is expected to be approved by the senate with a minimum of opposition.

This view was expressed today after study of the situation, which found few signs of dissatisfaction and several pertinent factors to support the prediction.

Chief among the latter was the favorable attitude of the southern Democrats. Parker is a Republican, but the Democrats from his section have a high regard for his qualifications and are pleased that the south has thus been recognized in addition. Republican regulars are expected to support the president's selection.

Opposition Is Light

Thus, it was pointed out, whatever opposition might develop is expected to be confined to the independent Republicans from the West and it is by no means certain that object will come from that quarter.

The independents are reserving judgment. Senators Borah and Norris, leaders of the group are awaiting more complete information as to Parker's qualifications. From what they know of him already.

AUTO CRASH IN NEW YORK ENDS GANGSTER PLAN

Intended "Ride" Victims Drive Car Into Booth Officer Occupies

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 22—Two men who said they were being taken for a ride by three gangsters, escaped today by driving their machine into a traffic policeman's booth in Columbus circle.

Traffic Patrolman John Grady, after picking himself up from his wrecked booth, grappled with one of the alleged kidnapers and with the assistance of the two intended victims subdued him.

The prisoner was identified as George Melt (Ruf) Hope, a notorious gangster, who was released from Sing Sing prison six weeks ago after serving 10 years for robbery. His complices escaped.

The two intended ride victims, Vincent Klemmer and his brother-in-law, Lawrence McCarthy, told police they were forced into their own automobile by the three men as they emerged from a house in West 4th st.

"Drive out to Long Island, Kellner" they noted one of the men as saying. "You're being taken for a ride. When you get out there we'll tell you where to go."

Klemmer said Hope kept a pistol pressed to his side during the drive. Knowing a patrolman was on duty in the booth, Klemmer caused the car to crash into the booth. Grady was unharmed.

Hope denied he and his confederates were attempting to kidnap Klemmer and McCarthy and insisted on the contrary that he was being taken for a "ride." Hope was charged with kidnapping. He also faces the possibility of being returned to Sing Sing to serve out the balance of his 20 year robbery sentence. A loaded revolver was found in the front seat of the automobile.

FROMM CASE TO GO UP HIGHER

Convicted Official Will Appeal To Ohio's Supreme Court

CANTON, March 21—Charles A. Fromm, president of the Stark county commissioners, will carry his fight to escape serving a prison sentence to the state supreme court, he indicated today after losing his appeal in the appellate court at Cleveland.

Since brought to trial, Fromm has failed to resign from the commission and has occupied his office in the courthouse. However, all matters on which he might have had a deciding vote have been postponed.

The charges against Fromm were filed in Cuyahoga county common pleas court by the Colon-Cleveland company of Cleveland. They alleged he solicited a $400 bribe from their representative who obtained a contract to furnish hospital equipment. Fromm said he had been promised money as a "commission" that he honored the company's salesman for failing to pay it, but that he never attempted to collect.

In another suit growing out of alleged irregularities in awarding of contracts at the hospital, Albert L. Thayer, New Castle, Pa., architect, was found guilty of a charge of soliciting a bribe from the Melbourne Construction company. He has a motion for a new trial pending.

The fifth Ohio district is expected to provide the most interesting battle for the Republican congressional nomination. Two new candidates have entered to contest the seat held by Charles L. Thompson of Delaware.

William L. Mahan, former Delaware county school superintendent, threw his hat into the congressional ring within a few hours after George A. Stauder, Ottawa, former United States Marshal, had announced his candidacy. Mahan was defeated for the nomination in 1928 by Thompson by a margin of 2,200 votes.

William W. Durbin, Kenton manufacturer and former chairman of Democratic state executive committee, was understood to be still considering a request of his friends to seek the Democratic senatorial nomination.

BURNING FOREIGN MADE APPAREL

Mahatma Gandhi, Indian leader and mystic, led his pioneer band of volunteers out of his quarters at Ahmadabad a few days ago and started his march to the Gulf of Cambay, opening his campaign of civil disobedience to the Indian Government. Gandhi's followers have reached a colossal figure. One of his ablest disciples is Miss Madeline Slade, daughter of a British admiral, none knows his people better than he, and none is more capable of estimating the probably results of his years of preachers of enmity towards English rule in India and toward all modern civilization.

Educated in London

This naked apostle of Indian "liberty" is now in his sixth year. Early in life he went to London to study the law. He was denied the privilege of association with the better-class English, to whom some attribute his bitterness toward English authority. He is a clever lawyer. For years he has preached a pacifist rebellion, non-co-operation and non-resistance. He has taken on the attitude of the humblest of his adherents, cloaking himself in rags and fasting until he is but the mere shadow of a man. His reputation has increased mightily over India among the Hindus of all castes. Millions have heard him and followed his teachings.

Boycott British Goods

Some classify him as a saint; others maintain he is naught but a subtle politician. However, the fact remains that he is, although deformed physically, dynamite in human form. He constitutes the greatest peril to British rule in India. Such a menace that England recognizes this weak-kneed, naked man as a dangerous opponent.

As he trudges through the dust of the highways, disciples at his heels, on his "civil disobedience" march to Jalalpur, there are signs that an outbreak of violence against the British in India and against the white man is imminent. Although he has said repeatedly that he abhors bloodshed and discourages

FLYING UNDER MANHATTAN BRIDGE.

WITH MOTHER AFTER ENDURANCE RECORD.

FLYING high is more than a pastime with Elinor Smith; it is a symbol of the increasing importance of her sex in the realm of aviation. For Elinor with her three world's flying records all obtained before her 19th birthday is a glorious example of the new girl who can not only compete with but can beat men in her various spheres and yet maintain all the delightful charms and graces of vibrant young womanhood.

Licensed at Sixteen

Crack pilots at the Long Island Flying fields have known Elinor Smith since she haunted the fields years ago. As a matter of record, it was Bert Acosta who took Elinor for her first flight, when she was just eight years old. By the time she was 10 she had done a little flying on her own account, and when she was 14 years of age she could already look back on flying career that included being a passenger in 25 forced landings as well as two serious accidents, all of which the young aviator regards as important and valuable incidents in her training. At the age of 15 she made her first solo flight, and from then on her career is aviation history. Two weeks after obtaining her license, which she secured at the age of 16, Elinor Smith, took her plane up to 11,337 feet and created a record that could not be officially noted because, at that time, there were no official women's aviation records yet classified or recorded.

Real Muscle Needed

Since Elinor Smith obtained her pilot's license she has worked unceasingly for the recognition of women's flying records by the National Aeromarine Society. And it is because of the 19-year-old flyer's efforts and brilliant achievements that such records are now officially recognized. Miss Smith has very well defined views about women in aviation, and does not think that women can compete with men in flying heavy, passenger laden planes. But she does think that, given a good physique, muscular strength, good judgment and determination, woman has much of constructive importance to offer to the ever growing field of aviation. Miss Smith, it is noted, is 5 feet 2 inches high and weighs 115 pounds.

Baby Dies In Fire

TOLEDO, March 22.—A nine-month-old baby girl was burned to death when fire destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard M. Moore in Westwood Gardens west of here. A grandfather, John Moore, 65, was burned seriously on the face and hands when he tried to rescue the child.

Machinery Important In Germany's Opera

BERLIN, Mar. 22.—Grand opera in overalls made its debut at the civic opera house last night when Max Branda "machinist Hopkins" was shown to the press.

The theme of the opera is the machines conquers of man. It begins and ends in a factory amid whirling wheels, gasping pistons, clanking shafts and a final soprano aria sung by an electric switchboard which personifies the power behind the machinery.

The players are dwarfed by a huge piece of machinery which not only plays the principal part but to all intents and purposes sings the principal role.

Two more convictions in the war against the "bomb trusts" were returned by a jury last night in Judge Otto Kerner's court—making a total of five within the past two weeks.

At about the same time, five extortionists were seized as they were accepting a decoy tribute from their intended victim.

Joseph Cerra and Carlo Olivera, who since their arrest last April waded through several legal tangles were found guilty and sentenced to prison for one to five years each. In addition, both were fined $300.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

For that light luncheon or supper of a Sunday night, present cheese-cake as dessert. It's a very substantial dessert—almost a meal in itself if made the regular way. And it's a favorite dish with a great many, judging by the frequency with which it appears on the menus of business men's lunching places. Yet, it is not always what it should be—light, fluffy, on a crisp crust. And if it's less than that, it deserves the mean things said about its indigestibility.

To insure good results, several items must be carefully observed. Ingredients must be measured carefully—and they must be of the best. Heat must be watched. Cheese-cake is baked like a custard, and should not be subjected to too intense heat—quite low temperature is the best.

As far as crust is concerned, it is very difficult to use an ordinary pie-crust and prevent it from getting soggy. Therefore the other alternative is preferable—no raw pastry, but a foundation which is already cooked. Stale cake or crackers or better still, zwieback can be rolled to fine crumbs. Mixed with butter and sugar and rolled on the bottom and sides of the baking pan.

Place cream cheese, sugar and eggs in a large bowl and mix together. Separate the eggs, and add one yolk at a time to the cheese mixture, beating constantly. Then add cream, salt and vanilla and finally fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour this mixture over the crumbs in the pan and bake in a moderate oven for 1 hour.

Also, consider the tin in which the cake is baked. Either it should be a good-looking fire-proof dish which can be presented at table, or a tin plate with a spring mold, which can easily be slipped off after the cake is baked. Good cheese-cake is as light as a souffle, and it cannot be handled much after baking without risking its attractive shape.

Cream Cheese Cake

1 pound cream cheese
1 cup sweet cream
1 cup sugar
4 eggs
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
Dash of salt
1 dozen zwieback

If zwieback are not available, graham crackers, or any other crackers can be rolled into fine crumbs and used, to make 1 cupful.

Mix together the crumbs, 2 tablespoons of butter and if necessary 2 tablespoons of sugar. This depends on whether sweet or unsweetened crumbs are used. Place this mixture on the bottom and sides of the baking pan.

The Gospel and healing grace of our Lord and Savior is not for the exclusive possession of any race or class. Before the coming of Jesus to earth, the chosen people of God were the tribes of Israel. After our Lord came, some of the most despised and hated peoples were blessed with His healing. The open door to Christ is faith. May our faith be described as great.

Morning worship, 11, sermon: "The Proof of Works."

Had there been an open mind in Carli's time there would have been very little rejection of Him. The identity and authority of Christ was founded upon the marvelous works that He did in the Father's name. It seems rather unreasonable that some would turn away from Jesus Christ, the Head of the Church when there is sufficient evidence of Deity and sacrificing love for all mankind.

Favorites Win First Round Of State Basketball Title Play

Big Bill Hoskett In Stellar Performance Besting Findlay "5"

(By The Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., March 22.—Many high school basketball players and coaches will watch Bill Hoskett play his last interscholastic game and they will rejoice as they look on.

Hoskett, the six-foot, three-inch center of the Dayton Stivers high school team has been the difference between defeat and victory in many of the last 39 games, all of which Stivers has turned into consecutive victories. His height and reach under the goal has enabled Stivers to defeat other teams 30 to 40 per cent stronger in all other respects, and to win two state championships.

Hoskett himself has been all state center twice but today he plays his last high school game. Last night he accounted for 15 of his team's 22 points as Stivers defeated Findlay in the first round of the annual state tournament. This afternoon Stivers meets McKinley High of Canton in the semi-finals, and if successful in that game, then will play the winner of the Akron East-Fremont game for the state championship at 9 p.m. tonight.

Favored to Trim Canton
Stivers has won seven of the 14 championships. The Orange Crush is favorite to beat McKinley and then to overcome East High of Akron—at least, that's the problematical bracket.

The Dayton team would have been beaten by Findlay last night if they had had any other center than Hoskett. The northwest champions played heroically and were always within striking distance but their best was not good enough to match Hoskett who sank seven field goals.

Rox Holman, head out of the starting lineup by Coach B. T. Knadis proved his speed and court craft as soon as he entered the game. He accounted for three goals and four free throws, ten of his team's 16 points, and carried his team to within two points of Stivers' 16 points but then the crunch put on pressure and cracked Findlay's title hopes.

Akron East Wins
East High of Akron opened a four-year-old score with Zanesville, 21 to 16 victory and moved on toward the title which Zanesville deprived it of in 1929 in the final round of the tournament.

McKinley of Canton, runner-up for the state title in 1928, seemed to have come to the end of its trail in facing Stivers, although its 29 to 16 victory over Chillicothe was legitimate enough. Don Black and Bob Schreiber did most of the scoring for McKinley, scoring 22 of the 29 points for Canton.

The semi-finals in the Class B brought together Carrollton and Rome township high of near Ironon, Lawrence county in the upper bracket, and St. Mary of Lancaster against Jefferson township of near Mifflin, O., Clinton county, in the lower bracket. The Rome and Lancaster teams looked especially strong yesterday.

However, Rawson established a record by making Jefferson townships go three overtime periods to win 13 to 13. Only in eight years or more had the tournament seen an overtime game, according to the old-timers, but Tiffin junior home carried Lancaster to one extra period and then the Jefferson-Rawson game went three, one after the other.
